this report identifies and reviews all previous recorded measurements of the underwater portion of icebergs analysis of previous keel measurements show that at best only a general three dimensional impression of the underwater shape can be obtained analysis of the data base also indicates that there is not a good functional relationship between the draft and the above water parameters of icebergs and thus above water dimensions form a poor basis for estimation iceberg draft factors affecting performance of an acoustic iceberg mapping system including frequency versus range and resolution angle of incidence and beam bending are investigated the use of alternative sensors for iceberg mapping primarily underwater low light tv lidars and impulse radars and it is concluded that because of the significant research and development required and the short operational ranges achievable that optical electro optical devices are not at present feasible sensors for underwater iceberg shape determination impulse radar deployed from a helicopter has potential as an iceberg draft measurement device well mrs caldwell is the english mother of eliacim who has died a while ago not clear but possibly in ww2 or at least between the world wars she is writing a sort of diary of her thoughts as she ponders her relationship with her now grown son the book has about 200 pages with about 200 short chapters each with a descriptive heading she is going mad and the basic suggestion though not clear since this is definitely not a simple narrative story but in my view is because of her guilt in having had incestuous thoughts about him since he was a boy each chapter is basically a thought picture with little connectivity with the others as Caldwell brings to mind Eliacim's possible loves his career in the navy he dies aboard ship and is buried at sea objects that spark a memory avoids but alludes to her inappropriate behaviours and so on there is a possible thread of ideas associated with water wood of coffins sin time and her own youth Goodreads

Theatre in Atlantic Canada is a foundational collection that explores the rich and diverse theatrical landscape of Canada's eastern provinces Newfoundland and Labrador Nova Scotia Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick the book traces the region's theatre history from its colonial roots to its contemporary expressions highlighting how local storytelling traditions maritime culture and socio-political contexts shape performance in the Atlantic provinces contributors examine the development of professional and community theatre the influence of regional identity and the importance of oral traditions and folk performance the volume showcases the work of key theatre companies like Neptune Theatre and Festival Antigonish as well as the rise of indigenous and Acadian voices it emphasizes how Atlantic Canadian theatre often grapples with themes of isolation resilience and belonging and how it carves a unique space within the broader Canadian theatrical canon through historical analysis critical essays and artist perspectives theatre in Atlantic Canada offers an essential overview of a vibrant but often overlooked cultural region it makes a compelling case for the significance of east coast theatre in shaping Canadian performance both in form and content and invites further exploration of its evolving practices
